Russ' Beaded Leech

1/30/2020

One of Russ Doughty favorite fly is the Beaded Leech. It is an easy fly to tie and he likes the Leech Blood Dubbing. Start with a TMC5264, size 10, 4X long hook and added a gold bead.

Add lead wire if using a brass bead.

Tie down the lead wire and add a thread base to the bend of the hook.

Take some of the dubbing and make a tail for this fly. Then add a dubbing loop and bring your thread to the back of the bead.

Fill the dubbing loop with dubbing and use your dubbing tool. By spinning you're dubbing tool the dubbing in the loop will be locked in. Then palmer you're dubbing to the front of the hook. This will build your body.

Tie off your dubbing loop, and cut off the excess. Whip finish and brush out your dubbing. A dab of Dave's Flex Cement on the collar and the fly is finished.

Here are some of the materials I used.

What do you think? Let me know.
