1/16 oz - Double Eye – Hook

3/18/2020

Rain, Rain, go away so that we can fish another day. With all the rain we have been having, and if you are going fishing at the Trout parks, you are going to need some weight to get your fly down. My Lead fly the Sowbug will work.

Tie or epoxy some legs on it and its 1/8 or 1/16 oz body will get it down on the bottom. Tie on your favorite fly to the second eye.

Some of you have told me that that it is too heavy for fly fishing, so back to the drawing board we go. Look at this 1/64 oz double eye hook.

Put on a thread base and then decide what you want to tie.

Add a tail with .75 Softball yarn Red, and a grizzly feather. And 2.2 Softball Black.

Then finish up your fly, this one is a woolly worm.

Now when you tie this to your tippet, you will have the weight and the extra eye to tie on your second favorite fly..

The weight-1/64 oz, and the 100% cotton yarn which absorbs water, will get this fly down.

We are still in the proto type stage and it would not be happening if it wasn't on my friend Pappy. Updates to follow.

Let me know what you think.

1/64 Double eye hook

Woolly Worm Materials:

- Hook: Micro Jig with 1/64 oz lead
- Hook sizes: 10
- Thread: UTC 70 or 140, color to match material.
- Tail: Vintage Softball 100% combed Cotton yarn, 3 ply-.75 Red
- Hackle: Grizzly feather
- Body: Vintage Softball 100% combed Cotton yarn, 3 ply-2.2 Black
- Tail: Bed Spread Material (This is Vintage Softball 100% combed Cotton yarn, 3 ply)

Fishing instructions: Dead Drift with a strike indicator using this fly as the first fly (attractor fly) and the weight 1/64 will get it down. Tie a dropper fly (your favorite) as the second fly off the second eye. Or use a sinking line or sinking leader and strip it along the bottom. The hook is up, so it will not get caught on the bottom. Your second fly is lighter and will be in the feeding zone.

If you do not want to receive this and would like to be removed from my email, just let me know and I will remove you from my data base.
